Tips for Improving Your Gas Mileage

As our gas price climbs, take a couple minutes out of your day to make minor changes that will improve your gas mileage.

VEHICLE TIPS

- * Repair any body damage. It adds an aerodynamic drag which decreases gas mileage
- * Keep tires properly inflated and check them frequently
- *Keep your front suspension and steering in proper alignment

* Use the thinnest viscosity of oil that your car manufacturer recommends

* Don't use premium fuel if your car does not require it- using it is an unnecessary expense.

DRIVING TIPS

- * Avoid excessive warm up time. Modern engines do not require it
- * Keep your speed at 55 mph whenever possible

* Drive in the highest possible gear

* Empty the trunk! Excessive weight will kill your gas mileage

* Don't idle your engine for long periods of time. Turn off the car if you must wait a long period of time

* For newer vehicles with aerodynamic designs, close the windows and turn on air conditioning when driving on the freeway
